Should you believe that they have some value, also please consider donating what you consider a reasonable sum to some worthy purpose; even a tiny amount may make a difference somewhere. I suggest Good Shepherd Services in New York City. It provides supports for at risk children and families (<https://goodshepherds.org/>). As an resource originally started by a religious order, it seems appropriate to themes within these books. Donations to your local library or to a community college scholarship fund can be valuable local investments. Consider also Archive.org as it helps makes these resources available. I would be surprised if any organization returns even a nominal sum. -HH-
